BLITHE SPIRIT

riotous reimagining of Noël Coward's classic comedy from director Edward Hall, Blithe Spirit tells the story of a love that just won't die.

Best-selling crime novelist Charles (Dan Stevens, Downton Abbey) is suffering from terrible writer's block amidst a looming deadline for his first screenplay. His picture-perfect new wife Ruth (Isla Fisher, Confessions of a Shopaholic) is doing her best to keep him focused in the hope of fulfilling her dream of leaving London for Hollywood.

Charles' quest for inspiration leads him to invite the eccentric mystic Madame Acarti (Dame Judi Dench in her funniest role in years) to perform a séance in his home, but he gets more than he bargained for when Madame Acarti accidentally summons the spirit of his deceased first wife: the brilliant and fiery Elvira (Leslie Mann, This Is 40).

Shocked to discover the prim and proper Ruth is now married to her husband, the determined Elvira embarks on a mission. Charles finds himself stuck between his two wives in an increasingly comical and deadly love triangle in this lethally hilarious comedy.

THE ELEPHANT MAN

elebrating the 40th anniversary of its release, award-winning historical drama The Elephant Man is an unforgettable story of dignity and survival in late 19th century London.

John Merrick (John Hurt, in intricate prosthetics) is the 'Elephant Man', a man spurned by society because of the disfiguring disabilities he was born with and forced into circus sideshows to make a living. Rescued by well-meaning surgeon Frederick Treves (Sir Anthony Hopkins), he tries to escape a life of prejudice and cruelty as he attempts to fit into a world ruled by Victorian sensibilities. Yet, as the two men spend more time together, Merrick reveals himself to be a person of kindness, intelligence and sophistication.

Aesthetically shot in black and white, The Elephant Man boasts a stellar supporting cast including Anne Bancroft, John Gielgud, and Wendy Hiller. Presented in a stunning 4K restoration, with both picture and sound overseen by one-of-a-kind auteur David Lynch (Eraserhead 1977, Mulholland Drive 2001), The Elephant Man is a high-brow period drama nominated for eight Academy Awards that cemented Lynch's reputation as one of world's most visionary talents.

THE LADYKILLERS

elebrating its 65th anniversary, The Ladykillers is released for the first time in a sublime 4K restoration, showcasing the classic comedy in its full glory with Technicolor.

One of Britain's most brilliant and versatile actors Sir Alec Guinness plays Professor Marcus, who claiming to be a classical musician and academic, rents a London flat on a cul-de-sac from a sweet octogenarian lady (a BAFTA winning Katie Johnson). He tells her that, from time to time, several other musicians will visit in order to rehearse.

In truth, the sinister Professor can't play a note and nor can his visitors: he is a criminal mastermind, holding court over his gang of eccentric thieves, including the likes of punkish Harry (Peter Sellers), the unsmiling, homicidal Louis (Herbert Lom), punchdrunk ex-boxer One-Round (Danny Green) and the cowardly poseur Major Courtney (Cecil Parker). Using the rented flat as headquarters, the gang of seedy social misfits led by Professor Marcus conceive a daring 60,000-pound robbery at King's Cross St Pancras station.

Director Alexander Mackendrick delivers a classic British caper that beautifully captures London's decaying Victorian splendour, with sweetness and comic horror in equal measure.

As Pamela deals with her unexpected pregnancy and the growing pains of the disgruntled Allegra, their fragile relationship becomes strained, yet the challenges they both face ultimately bring mother and daughter to a better understanding of themselves and each other.

Their daunting mission: conduct sabotage and build a resistance. SOE's 'spymistress' Vera Atkins (Stana Katic), later the inspiration for Ian Fleming's Miss Moneypenny in the James Bond franchise, was the chief recruiter for this secret army.

DAYS OF THE BAGNOLD SUMMER

funny and charming directorial debut from The Inbetweeners acting star Simon Bird, Days of the Bagnold Summer follows the idle summer of a mother and her teenage son.

Gangly fifteen-year-old Daniel Bagnold (Earl Cave) lives with his divorced mother Sue (Monica Dolan, Official Secrets BFF19) in an English suburb. # MISBEHAVIOUR

ased on the bizarre true story of the protest-blighted 1970 Miss World contest, Misbehaviour is a charming feminist comedy from BAFTA award-winning director Philippa Lowthorpe, starring Keira Knightley.

In 1970, the Miss World competition took place in London, hosted by US comedy legend, Bob Hope (Greg Kinnear). At the time, Miss World was the most-watched TV show on the planet with over 100 million viewers.

Claiming that beauty competitions demeaned women, the activists Sally Alexander (Keira Knightley) and Jo Robinson (Jessie Buckley) from the newly formed Women's Liberation Movement, achieved overnight fame by invading the stage and disrupting the live broadcast of the competition. Not only that, when the show resumed, the result caused uproar: the winner was not the Swedish favourite but Miss Grenada, Jennifer Hosten (Gugu Mbatha-Raw), the first black woman to be crowned Miss World.

A cheery film in the vein of Made in Dagenham, Lowthorpe's Misbehaviour tells the tale of a pioneering protest, in which a global audience had witnessed the patriarchy driven from the stage and the Western ideal of beauty turned on its head.

While reading her husband's will, she discovers his wish to be cremated and have his ashes put in 'a box of chocolates' because Forrest Gump was his favourite movie. Deciding to fulfill her own dream, Annabelle makes a list of their favourite 20 movies, sells her house and hardware store, leaving her life in Nantucket behind.

She travels to Scotland first, in honour of Braveheart, where she is stunned and seduced by the sheer beauty of the Scottish countryside. In Loch Lomond she checks into an inn owned and operated by a crusty, weathered Scotsman, Lord Howard (Craig Ferguson). Polar opposites, Annabelle and Howard develop an unlikely friendship, changing their lives forever. But their second chance at love is complicated, as Howard is scheduled to be married at the end of the week.

A natural chemistry simmers between the two stars in Then Came You, an amusing story of loneliness and new beginnings. DIRECTOR

ROCKFIELD: THE STUDIO ON THE FARM

t is to recording studios what Glastonbury is to music festivals - run by farmers, on a working farm and fiercely independent. Celebrating the legendary Rockfield Studios, where Queen recorded "Bohemian Rhapsody" and Oasis created "Wonderwall", this documentary charts the rise of the studio from humble beginnings to the professional operation it is today.

Fifty years ago, deep in the Welsh countryside, two brothers, Kingsley and Charles Ward, were milking cows and preparing to take over the family dairy farm - but dreamed of making music. They had the audacious idea to build a studio in their farmhouse attic, so animals were kicked out of barns and musicians were moved into Nan's spare bedroom. Inadvertently, they launched the world's first independent residential recording studio: Rockfield.

Told through archive, animation and personal interviews, this documentary shares the stories of the Ward family and iconic musicians that made music and mayhem at Rockfield over the decades, including Black Sabbath, Queen, Led Zeppelin, Iggy Pop, Simple Minds, Oasis, The Stone Roses, and Coldplay.

Rockfield: The Studio on the Farm is a story of rock'n'roll dreams intertwined with a family business' fight for survival in the face of an ever-changing music landscape.

"An absolute joy from start to finish."

The Telegraph

An exploration of how punk influenced politics in late-1970s Britain, White Riot documents the formation of the Rock Against Racism movement that put anti-racist politics at the heart of punk rock.

It's 1970s UK, punk is exploding. The country is deeply divided over immigration and the National Front, a far right and fascist political party, is gaining strength. Outraged by a racist speech from Eric Clapton, music photographer Red Saunders writes a letter to the music press, calling for rock to be a force against racism.

Flooded with responses, Saunders teams up with like-minded creatives Roger Huddle, Kate Webb, Syd Shelton and Australian graphic designer Ruth Gregory to create Rock Against Racism (RAR) and the fanzine 'Temporary Hoarding'. Despite aggression from the National Front, RAR spread virally across the UK and the world, becoming a grassroots youth movement that culminated in a 100,000+ person march and concert where The Clash famously performed a raucous rendition of "White Riot".

A lively debut from director Rubika Shah, White Riot blends contemporary interviews with archive footage to highlight how music changed the world and a generation challenged the status quo.
